EXAMPLES:

Heather Craig represents the Collinsville 4-H Club of Grayson County. Her main 4-H project work has been in Food & Nutrition, as well as Clothing & Textiles and Photography, but her favorite is her Horse project. Heather started taking lessons and attending horse camps about five years ago. She says, "It hasn't all been roses and chocolate, but I have learned many things along the way." Heather was awarded the 4-H Gold Star Award this past year and calls it the "culmination of her 4-H career." With the inspiration of a teacher at Collinsville High School, Heather plans to attend Texas Woman's University with hopes of becoming a Registered Dietician. She is the daughter of Jonathan and Renee Hackett.*

Representing Kaufman County is Kelvin Word of the Ruminants Unlimited 4-H Club. Seven years ago, he began his 4-H career with a lamb project and continues that project today. Over the years, Kelvin has added the beef, photography, and horse projects and says he's learned hard work, diligence, and respect. Kelvin serves as a District IV 4-H Council Officer and was awarded the 4-H Gold Star Award this past year. He plans to study Agronomy this upcoming fall at either Sam Houston State University or Texas A&M University, with hopes of becoming a researcher. Kelvin attends Scurry-Rosser High School and is the son of Michael and Renee Word.
